

TO EXTERMINATE THE CURRIE GANG

The Postoffice Department Is Devising Plans.

WORK OF THE BANDITS

Commit Many Depredations and Secure Much Money.

The Government Offers a Reward of $150 for the Apprehension of Each Man.

John P. Clum, chief of the division of mail depredations of the Postoffice Department, is laying deep plans for the extermination of the Currie gang. As told in The Times yesterday, this gang has been so active in robbing postoffices, mail coaches and postmasters in Wyoming and Montana that service was actually suspended on several routes.

The latest depredation of the gang, so far as known by the authorities of the Postoffice Department, is the hold-up of a stage coach and the looting of the mail pouches on state route No. 6, between Bozeman and Red Lodge, Wyo. There is no telegraph or railroad station within 100 miles of the scene of the robbery. It is not known, of course, with certainty that this crime was committed by the Currie gang, but the evidence points that way, as the robbers were last heard of near the northern border of Wyoming, not far from Red Lodge.

The robbers, so far as known, are George Currie, George Dickson and Tom Dickson, alias George Jones and Tom Jones, and who are also known as the "Robbers Brothers."

During the year, these men have robbed the postoffice at Powderville, Mont., where they shot Postmaster Barnard; looted the Butte County bank of Bellefonte, S. Dak.; opened the postoffice at Walton, Natrona County, Wyo.; the postoffice at Big Horn, Wyo., and the office at Granger, in the same State. They are alleged to have terrorized whole districts in Wyoming and Montana.

The bandits secured $4,000 from the Butte County Bank, and this depredation was committed at noon.

They secured $100 from the postoffice at Big Horn, Utah County, Wyo. This office was committed on August 20. Post-office Inspector Waterbury, of Denver, and Sheriff Ward, of Evanston, Wyo., with four cowboys took up the trail of the robbers along Green River, to the head waters of the Gros Ventres and thence to the divide between Green River and the Big Wind River. The trail forked at this point, one part leading to the divide between the Gros Ventres and the Big Wind River, and the other toward Wild River. The posse divided and one section, while passing through a dense forest, was fired on from ambush and Joe Jackson's horse and the other toward Wild River. The posse divided and one section, while passing through a dense forest, was fired on from ambush and Joe Jackson's horse and the other toward Wild River.

A stronger posse went to the scene of the encounter and followed the trail of the hold-up to the Shoshone Indian Reservation, forty miles from Fort Washelli. On September 8, they crossed the Big Wind River, thirty-five miles above Fort Washelli. Thence they crossed the Bellefonte River, near the Missouri Buttes, and passed across the eastern border of the State. The pursuers rode 20 miles in four days. In this point, one part leading to the divide between the Gros Ventres and the Big Wind River, and the other toward Wild River. The posse divided and one section, while passing through a dense forest, was fired on from ambush and Joe Jackson's horse and the other toward Wild River.

The trail was followed into the Short Pine Hills, between the Little Missouri and the Little Powder Rivers, in Custer county, Montana, not far from Miles City. George Currie was well known a few years ago as a Wyoming cowboy, his parents and sister being at present respected citizens of Cheyenne. From cowboy-punching, he turned to cattle rustling, and then developed into a horse and cattle thief, land, and all-round outlaw. It is alleged that he has committed murder several times.

The Dickson boys were born in Arapahoe County, Col. Their father was an old-time freighter and their mother a Ute. A long time the boys were members of "Butch" Cassidy's gang, with headquarters in "Hole in the Wall," in the Big Horn Mountains. This was a shelter for desperate characters for many years. The sheepherders and stockmen have taken possession of it now, and the bones of many outlaws rest there.

Currie is the tallest of the gang. He is about 5 feet 10 inches in height and weighs about 160 pounds. His build is described as athletic. He uses good language and appears to have had an education, and he converses in a pleasant tone of voice. His shoulders are square and he carries his head erect. His feet and hands are small. He is twenty-four or twenty-five years old.

The Dickson boys are small and dark, and are between twenty-four and twenty-seven years old.

A reward of $150 is offered for the apprehension of each man.

For Stealing a Shirt.

Mamie Anderson, Ella Smith, and Nanette Taylor, charged with the larceny of a shirtwaist from Lumburg's, were this morning arraigned before Judge Kimball. Mamie Anderson, who is a pleasant-looking girl, was given sixty days in jail and Nanette Taylor was released.

Lunacy Cases Investigated.

Four lunacy cases were considered today by a marshal's jury, sitting in Criminal Court No. 1. The investigation was conducted by Deputy United States Marshal C. R. Wilson, and the report of the physicians as to the insanity of the subjects was confirmed.

Emergency Orders for the Navy.

The rapid preparations which are being made at the Brooklyn Navy Yard is inferred that a naval demonstration in Spanish waters may be necessary to conclude Spain that Uncle Sam is earnest in his ultimatum presented by the Peace Commission at Paris. It is also regarded as very significant that such a speedy squadron formation should take place at Hampton Roads unless the Government contemplates some sort of a clash with Spain. The Oregon and Iowa are being kept within communication with Washington, and it is certain that they will not proceed farther on the route to Manila until definite and satisfactory news has been received from the Peace Commissioners in Paris. The orders are causing considerable comment among naval officials, but your order for Hawaii's beer is an inference that you fully enjoy the superior qualities of Maizen, Senate, Extra Pale and Lager Beer. Telephone six-thirty-four, Arlington Building Co., for a case, or drop them a postal card—the latter will answer just as well.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN GEORGETOWN

PARKING COMMISSION AT WORK

Death of Mrs. Moore—Last of the Biological Lectures at Georgetown University—Other Notes.

The parking commission has men at work in Georgetown preparing to plant shade trees in the place of those blown down during the hurricane of October, 1885. Many complaints have been made to the effect that nearly all the shade trees in this section of the city are sadly in need of trimming. On many streets in wet weather it is impossible to carry an umbrella without constantly hitting the lower branches of the trees.

The death of Mrs. Mary Ellen Moore, a lifelong resident of Georgetown, occurred last night at 11 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ada Carter, on Thirty-fifth Street. She was seventy-four years old and death was the result of a general breaking down of the system. The deceased was the wife of the late Francis Moore, for many years a well-known business man of this town, and leaves many friends to mourn her loss. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from Trinity Church. Interment will be made at Holywood Cemetery.

The last of the series of lectures given by the biological department of the Georgetown University took place last evening in Gaston Hall, before a large audience. Frederick A. Lucas, of the National Museum, delivered a most instructive and entertaining lecture. His subject was "The Haunts and Habits of the Fur Seal," and brought out many instructive and comparatively unknown facts concerning this useful animal. At the close of the lecture a short musical program was rendered, after which the dean of the university extended the thanks and appreciation of the faculty to Mr. Lucas.

William Woodville, sr., head bookkeeper of the home on N Street, is critically ill at his home. His wife, Miss Ellen Entwistle, the deputy collector of the port of Georgetown, is critically ill with diphtheria at her home on Georgetown Heights.

Charles Stothman, who has been suffering from typhoid fever, is much improved.

The Western High School has decided not to organize a football team this year.

BRITONS ANXIOUS TO WELCOME SCHLEY

Express Pleasure That the Admiral, With the New European Squadron, Will Visit Portsmouth.

Inquiries are reaching the Secretary of the Navy from Portsmouth, England, expressing pleasure at the news that Admiral Schley, with the new European squadron, is to pay the town of Portsmouth a visit, as soon as he reaches the station, and asking the department to announce the date upon which the ships may be expected.

It is not possible to answer the question, pending the conclusion of the work of the Peace Commission at Paris, as the composition of the squadron would be affected by the necessity the Navy Department might be under to prepare for the resumption of hostilities.

An order was issued from the Navy Department yesterday detaching Rear Admiral Schley from duty with the Porto Rico Expedition Commission, and ordering him home on a leave of absence. It is said this is done to give him a much-needed opportunity to recuperate before taking charge of the European squadron.

LAWYER ADRIAANS' PETITION REFUSED

The Court of Appeals Renders a Decision Sustaining Judge Kimball's Ruling.

The Court of Appeals today refused the petition of J. H. Adriaans for a mandamus against Judge Kimball, judge of the District Court, requiring him to sign a bill of exceptions in the appeal of the petition from the decision of the lower court.

The litigation in the Police Court, grew out of a dispute, between Adriaans and Isaac S. Lyons, as to the title of a tract of land in Anacostia. The latter sued Adriaans for trespass in the Police Court. Judge Kimball presiding, and on Lyons' claim being proven, Adriaans was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or be imprisoned for three months in the District Jail.

Items marked with this badge of reduction stand on a plane of lowness seldom attained at any other store. We've placed it on some of the best goods ever brought to Washington this week. We've picked out qualities a little "best" of preceding occasions, and we've made prices many a jot lower than the lowest we've ever named heretofore. Just about now our actions are freighted with importance. We're livening up business. Throwing a greater vim and dash into our merchandising, and the tide of business is being ripped pretty thoroughly by our energetic exertions.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN THEIR DREAMS

West Virginia Republicans Quaking at a Prospect of Losing Control of the Legislature.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 17.—A special from Charleston, W. Va., to the American, says:

The past twenty-four hours have brought at least one change in the political status of the coming house of delegates, and one in the senate, and the result is a loss of three Republican votes. These changes cause the Republican managers to concede the Democrats a majority of five in the house, but they claim the legislature by four on joint ballot. The Democrats claim nine majority in the house and two on joint ballot. There are likely to be more changes that will leave the legislature uncertain till after it meets in January and the uncertainty of the Democrats in the senate and the Republicans in the house rests under way.

The latest report from Monroe County is that Logan, Democrat, is leading in the recount, and is almost certain to receive a certificate. This will give the Democrats the Senator to succeed Faulkner, if the count holds out through three more precincts.

Suit Against Eckington Railway.

The suit of Louis Neff against the Eckington and Soldiers' Home Railway Company for $20,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained as the result of a collision between two cars of that road on November 2, 1892, at the intersection of G and Eleventh Streets northwest, came on today. The cars in question were propelled by the electric storage system, and the collision is stated to have been caused by an open switch connecting the tracks of the Eckington and Soldiers' Home Company at the point named. Neff claims that he is permanently injured by having his back hurt in being thrown to the floor of the car.

THE INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION MEETS

LITTLE BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Risk of Work Necessitates the Appointment of Several Sub-Commissions.

Little business of importance was transacted by the members of the Industrial Commission at today's session. The members of the commission had all assembled in the board room at 12 o'clock, the hour agreed on for meeting at the last session, and proceeded to appoint the sub-commissions, whose duty it will be to investigate each case brought to the attention of the commissioners.

Since the appointment of this important body the chief clerk has been deluged with communications for the new board of arbitration. It has therefore been found necessary, in order to facilitate the work and permit each member to pursue his duties, to appoint these sub-commissions, and they will go to work immediately.

It is not probable that the commission proper will meet oftener than once a month, and only then when there are matters which cannot be attended to by the sub-commissions.

RESURRECTION OF CERVERA'S WARSHIPS

Proposals to the Naval Authorities to Rescue Ships Wrecked at Santiago Harbor's Entrance.

The naval authorities have redoubled their efforts to save the Cristobal Colon and other ships of Cervera's squadron, since it became apparent that the rescue of the Maria Teresa was out of the question and negotiations are progressing rapidly to that end.

The Merritt Wrecking Company of New York has submitted a proposition to undertake the raising of the Reina Mercedes from the month of Santiago Harbor on the "no cure, no pay" system, which will probably be accepted within a day or two, the Navy Department assuming no responsibility or expense whatever until the ship is delivered at Norfolk.

Assistant Secretary Allen, who has been given widest discretion in the matter of getting the Spanish prizes, was informed today that as a result of his preliminary negotiations with the Neptune Wrecking Company, of Sweden, experts and divers from that concern have already started across the Atlantic to examine the Colon and other ships, as well as the Maine, with a view to making a definite proposal regarding their salvage. This is the most famous wrecking association in Europe, and the highest confidence is placed in their ability to deliver the vessels at American ports, unless they go to pieces before operations can be commenced.

AFTER THE CONSULSHIP AT NOTTINGHAM, ENGLAND

Veterans Call on the President and Urge the Appointment of Captain Price.

Quite a large delegation of District G. A. R. men called upon the President this morning to urge the appointment of Capt. W. F. Price, who is prominently identified with the local posts of the army, as consul to Nottingham, England.

The delegation was headed by Commander Hendricks, of the G. A. R. The post to which Capt. Price aspires is now vacant, made so by the resignation of Consul Dickinson, who is a brother of Gen. Dickinson. Capt. Price was actively engaged in campaign work for the Republican party during the recent election. This fact, and his G. A. R. affiliations, it is hoped, will induce the President to make the desired appointment.

Commissioners' Orders.

D. Mills, J. D. Haynie and H. C. Miller as additional privates of police for duty at the Congressional Library.

British Sailors Threaten Mutiny.

Gibraltar, Nov. 17.—A mutiny is threatened on her majesty's battleship Majestic. It appears an officer of the vessel fell from slipping on an orange peel on the deck, and as a result the privileges of the sailors were curtailed. Thereupon the men retaliated by throwing a quantity of gun fittings and equipments overboard. Shore leaves have been stopped. The attitude of the sailors is ugly and armed sentries are constantly on duty to cow them and prevent open rebellion to discipline.

Elliott Danforth to Marry.

New York, Nov. 17.—Announcement was made this morning of the engagement of Mrs. Richard Mott Laimber to Elliott Danforth, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor at the last election. ## A Kentucky Negro Vendetta.

Russellville, Ky., Nov. 17.—Ben Perry, Jr., colored, shot and wounded "Aunt" Sis Beall, her son, Jack, and one of her daughters, late last evening. The trouble grew out of the killing of Charles Perry by Harry Beall Sunday night. The streets are full of armed negroes and a double lynching is probable as both sides have friends.
